

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I, Stuart of the family Hill, member of the Sovereign Nation of Shetland, do hereby declare my individual sovereignty. I do not consent to being bound by any Act, Statute or Directive of the United Kingdom, Scotland or the European Union and claim permanent estoppel barring any 'police officer' or 'prosecutor' from bringing charges against me under any such Act, Statute or Directive. Any previous consent was obtained by fraud and deception, was a mistake and is hereby withdrawn.

Specifically, but not exclusively, I claim the right to travel on the public highway by whatever means I choose, without let or hindrance and without payment or licence of any kind.

I do not consent to intercourse or interaction with 'police officers' who have not observed me breach the peace.

It is not my intention to live otherwise than peacefully and lawfully.
